

SHILOH VILLAGE SCHOOL
DISTRICT # 85

SUBSTITUTE
HANDBOOK

(June, 2025)

Welcome

Welcome to Shiloh Village School District #85. As a member of the substitute teaching staff, you are one of the most essential parts of our school structure. As more teachers are out of the classroom whether it is for professional development or personal reasons, your role as a substitute teacher is vital to the educational welfare of our students.

Some of you are new to substitute teaching, while others have varying degrees of experience. Teaching is an all-encompassing task, and as a substitute teacher you are encouraged to expand the learning and intellectual growth of our students. We expect our substitute teachers to be competent, conscientious and caring individuals who temporarily take the place of a regular classroom teacher.

One of our most important goals is to sustain effective instruction each school day. Our expectation of substitute teachers is that normal instructional programs will be implemented, as outlined in written lesson plans by the regular classroom teacher. The key role of the substitute teacher is to continue effective classroom interaction so students sustain learning and achieve instructional goals. As a member of the substitute staff, you have the responsibilities and accountabilities of the other certificated staff members relating to classroom operations.

This Handbook, along with assistance from school principals and classroom teachers, will enable you to assist us in meeting the educational needs of our students.

You are an important teacher as you work in our classrooms and Shiloh Schools. You bring your interests, hobbies and talents into the classroom and enrich the lives of our children. We appreciate your contributions and if we can assist you in any way, please do not hesitate to call or stop by.

This fund finances the Teachers' Retirement Program. The program is administered by TRS. Certified substitute teachers are not eligible to participate in the Shiloh Village SD #85 health insurance program.

PROCEDURES FOR CALLING SUBSTITUTES

Day-to-day assignments are made through our AESOP Attendance System. The system begins calling as substitute requests are made and the majority of placements are made by 10 pm of the day prior to the assignment. Absences which occur after 10:00 p.m. will be filled by calls to substitutes beginning at 5:30 am on the day of the assignment. The possibility exists that you could be called after 8:00 a.m. in cases of emergency.

If you are unable to substitute for an extended period of time or need to change your availability, you will need change it through Aesop. You can contact AESOP by calling 1-800-942-3767 or you can log on to their website at aesoponline.com.

SUBSTITUTE TEACHING PROFESSIONALISM

The principal of the school, or someone designated by him/her, will give specific instructions when the substitute arrives for the assignment. For this reason, substitutes are required to report at the beginning of the teacher work day to be prepared before classes convene.

The duties of a substitute extend beyond the classroom, and the substitute is expected to perform other duties that have been assigned to the regular teacher. Such duties might include hall duty and other supervisory assignments. Clarification of such duties should be made in the morning orientation by the building principal or secretary.

The substitute is on the same professional level as a regular teacher and is expected to observe the same ethical codes. Any comparison of schools, teachers, and students is considered unprofessional conduct. All student records are to be held in strictest confidence. If the substitute questions conditions in a given school, it is appropriate to discuss this with the building principal.

Each member of the staff is responsible for the safety of students under their charge. A nurse or nurse's assistant is available for each of the schools to assist in situations that they might best handle. If a student is seriously hurt, contact the nurse or principal immediately.

BEFORE THE SCHOOL DAY

Assignments:

Every effort will be made by the Aesop system to contact substitutes either the day before or as early in the morning as possible. Sometimes, however, there are emergency calls for substitutes during the school day.

Arrive Early:

The teacher work day begins and ends at:

Shiloh Elementary School	7:50 a.m. – 3:20 p.m.
Shiloh Middle School	7:50 a.m. – 3:20 p.m.

Again, the expectation is that substitutes will arrive with enough time before the first bell to prepare for the day's work in the classroom.

In the event a substitute is not called until just prior to the beginning of the school session or is called during the school day, every effort should be made to arrive as soon as possible.

When You Arrive:

Go directly to the principal's office. At 7:30 a.m. or after, the principal or a building representative will greet you. Specific assignments, instructions, or explanations will be given at this time. You will have the teacher's "Sub Folder" waiting for you in the classroom.

Check the Room:

Acquaint yourself with room order. Find the seating chart(s), which is usually near the daily lesson plan. Acquaint yourself with emergency evacuation procedures posted in the room, and familiarize yourself with the phone system in case an emergency occurs.

Be resourceful. If keys do not work, if you cannot locate the lesson plan, or if materials are not in the proper location, ask the principal or the teacher next door for help.

Check Daily Schedule:

The daily program is located with the lesson plan and will give you a general picture of the day's program. Check to see what special teachers, if any, will be in the room and what your role will be during that time. (i.e. In the morning, elementary teachers typically pick up students, as a group, from the gym or blacktop.) The more familiar you are with the schedule and the room, the better your class management.

Read the Teacher's Lesson Plans:

This is your best clue to what you are to teach. As you locate textbooks and workbooks, place markers for the pages indicated. It will help you throughout the day. Organize materials so they are easily accessible. Students are accustomed to the established routine of the regular teacher; and if the routine changes drastically, class control becomes more difficult.

Unprepared Class Plans:

In rare instances, the substitute may be caught without up-to-date plans. The substitute should notify the principal and ask for a copy of the class schedule. Conferring with other teachers of the same subject or grade level for general information is helpful. Procedural information may be obtained from them before the class begins.

Put Your Name on the Board:

Students should learn to pronounce your name at once. You are a person, their teacher for the day, and not just the "sub."

Now You Are Ready:

You arrived early, found the room, checked the schedules, noted the assignments, and have a plan of action for the school day. Relax and greet your next-door neighbor. When students arrive, your confidence and planning will make a pleasant day for all.

EMERGENCY PROCEDURES AT SCHOOL

Emergency Notification:

When inclement weather or other unforeseen situations warrant the closing of school, the announcement will be made as soon as possible and as early as 5:30AM. The Superintendent will make the announcement using the following sources: local TV stations and the Shiloh Schools website.

Crisis Response Plan Procedures:

All staff members should be familiar with the Crisis Response Plans Procedures:

- Intruder Plan
- Automatic Response Responsibilities
- Disaster at the building site with injuries
- Fire Procedures
- Storm Procedures
- Earthquake Procedures
- Bomb Threat

Crisis Response Plan Code:

Code Red - Lockdown - LOCK your classroom door and stay in the room. Students in or about hallways should report to the nearest room.

Emergency and Safety Procedures:

OUTSIDE ENTRANCES

1. All visitors must use the Main Entrance and then proceed to the school office to sign in and obtain a visitor badge.

INSIDE DOORS

1. Inside doors cannot be restricted for one-way traffic using signage due to fire code.
2. Interior doors and windows cannot be covered with paper or artwork due to school safety management.

STARTING THE DAY

Be in Your Room When the Students Arrive:

This is not only a legal responsibility but also a necessity in establishing good discipline and effective control.

Greet the Students:

Greet the students with a smile and a pleasant "Good Morning." Direct students to their seats where they are to remain until instructions are given.

Try to Learn the Student's Names:

Learning the name of each student in a class group in one day is almost impossible, so pinpoint the location of a Mary, a Bill or a Jane who can serve as anchors for your name association as the day goes on.

Follow Established Routine:

If there are established routines, make no changes. For example, if students are to sharpen pencils as they come in or turn in assignments to bins, stay with this procedure.

Check Attendance Carefully:

Call each name distinctly and ask for any corrections in pronunciation. Use seating charts to help you associate names and faces. Follow the building procedure for recording attendance carefully and send it in promptly. Also make a note to the teacher as to who was absent.

Do Not Argue With Students:

Explain to students early that some procedures may vary from the usual way, but this is how it will be done today. You should, however, adhere closely to the regular teacher's routine, if possible.

Now You Are Ready to Teach:

The explanations have been made, class procedures followed, and the students know what to expect. Start the lessons at once. A good start will assure a rewarding day for students and you.

CLASSROOM MANAGEMENT

Class management and discipline can be a major problem for a substitute. A few simple suggestions will help you establish good class routines, provide for efficient learning situations, and establish mutual respect of teacher and pupil.

Be Patient:

It is natural for a class to test a substitute. You represent a change, and change produces insecurity. Patience, understanding, kindness, and respect will alleviate distrust.

Expect Good Behavior:

Students tend to respond to whatever we expect of them. A few minutes of explanation at the start of the school day outlining your expectations will help solve problems that may arise.

Be Fair and Consistent:

Class control depends greatly on the degree of fair and consistent treatment. Students must know the "ground rules" before they will accept them.

Recognize the Importance of Every Student:

Students are human beings with personal feelings and individual differences. If possible, make personal corrections in private. At all times, avoid embarrassment, ridicule, and sarcasm. Positive comments for some students can help correct a trying situation.

Have Materials Ready:

Periods of waiting for materials or with no constructive work to do can be starting points for discipline problems.

Be Ready for a Real Problem:

In spite of your best efforts, you may have a pupil who is a definite discipline problem. If at all possible, avoid excluding him/her from the group. Be sure to know the discipline plan in the building. You can ask another teacher what the discipline plan is upon your arrival. Corporal punishment is never to be used. As a last resort, refer him/her to the principal. When referring a student to the office, use the classroom phone to notify the office to expect the student. In some cases you may have to escort the student to the office; if so, ask the teacher next door to watch your room.

Do Not Leave the Group:

No student should be left alone. If a situation does arise, notify the closest teacher so that the students in your room are not left unattended.

Avoid Making Threats:

By making threats you may place yourself in a position of destroying your class control by not being able to carry out the threat. One threat leads to another and soon the students realize that you will not or cannot follow through. Be positive. By rewarding students with encouraging words, other students will try to model that behavior as well.

Use Common Sense at All Times:

Of all the rules, regulations, guides, procedures, and directives, there is no substitute for good common sense.

TEACHING THE LESSON

Be Prepared:

Your ability to carry out the day's lesson as outlined will affect the class control and the students' education for that day. If you substitute for multiple days in the same classroom, you are often under the same obligation as the regular teacher to plan for the next day. Periods when students are not in the room, provide excellent opportunities for planning, correcting completed work, or observing students in another setting.

Be Ready:

Be sure to read any and all notes the teacher has provided before the students arrive. There may be information about behavior and learning concerns that are important to know before the day begins. Have materials ready for students, put instructions on the board if called for, and know the starting assignment. Be sure that you have the complete attention of every student before starting.

Motivation is the Key:

Students need, and want, motivation. Remember, however, that your primary purpose is to teach, not entertain. Be brief, set the stage, arouse curiosity, and relate to the previous lesson. This can be accomplished by a picture, a key question, a story, or a shared experience. Be enthusiastic, it's often contagious.

Make Your Presentation Clear:

What the students gain from the lesson will depend on how well you present it.

- A. Keep the language on their level of understanding.
- B. Present one point at a time.
- C. Go from the known to the unknown, the easy to the difficult.
- D. Stop often and review.
- E. Do not hesitate to repeat.
- F. Give students opportunities to ask questions.

Ask Good Questions:

Shiloh, as a district, is working to improve our questioning techniques. Good teaching is a process of drawing out from within the student rather than stuffing them with knowledge. A good question is one that:

- A. Asks something you really want to know.
- B. Is concise and expressed well.
- C. May often require some intermediate answers.
- D. Directs a student in self-motivation.
- E. Gives the student an idea of what is to follow.
- F. Causes student to formulate new or unexpected ideas.
- G. Does not call for mere repetition of book materials.

Provide for Active Participation:

In a really good lesson situation, students are engaged in organized activities. Directions should be clear, supervision constant, and emphasis should be on the project.

Leave Time for Summary:

All facts and concepts need to be brought together before the close of the lesson. Vary your ways of summation. It can be teacher directed, pupil directed, or activity directed. If a parent were to walk into the classroom, what would you tell him/her the class did today?

Give Clear Assignments:

Assignments should be clear, concise, purposeful, and should take into account individual differences. If homework is assigned, write the assignment with its due date on the board. Remember to leave the teacher a note with what was completed and what was assigned for homework.

Stay on Schedule:

Do your best to maintain the schedule set by the teacher. Ask yourself, "How close am I to the regular teacher's time schedule? Do I seem to be rushing through the day's plans? Am I giving the class time to think through the problems and work them out before you give the answer? Am I taking time to review and restate the teachings?"

Maybe the teacher's plans are too lengthy for the time allotted. Was there a fire drill or an unscheduled assembly that cut into the day's schedule? Many things can interrupt the best made plans. Stop a moment, rethink the teacher's objectives, and then try to accomplish the goals you feel are important. Leave the teacher a note accounting for the lesson and activities you were able to complete.

Build Your Resources of Ideas:

While you usually have many activity ideas in the back of your head, the chances are that when you are in front of a class you may not be able to think of a single thing. Start your own resource book of ideas. Always keep it with you and add to it as you go along. In every teacher's room, you will find an idea that you can use and adapt to another room.

ENDING THE DAY

Put the Room in Good Order:

The room should be left as orderly as you found it. Please check with the office regarding any special procedures. Close doors and windows. Leave everything ready for the next day.

Correct Papers:

Substitutes are not expected to stay after the work day to correct papers. During the school day, substitutes should make an effort to grade routine assignments. The grading of essays and special projects will be the responsibility of the regular classroom teacher.

Record any Pertinent Information for the Teacher:

This might include a short list of things that were accomplished, special problems, communications, and any accidents that occurred.

Report to Office:

Prior to leaving for the building substitutes are required to return any ID badges, keys or materials. Report any discipline problems, accidents or injuries, or room damage.

GENERAL SCHOOL PROCEDURES

A. Pupils are never to be left alone in the classroom. If it is necessary to leave the room, the teacher in the next room should be asked to step into the hall and watch the room until the substitute returns.

B. All cases of accident or illness are to be reported immediately to the principal's office. Accident reports are to be completed by the teacher or employee on duty at the time of accident.

C. Corporal punishment is not to be used in any circumstance. Extreme behavior problems are to be referred to the principal with a note of explanation.

D. Students are not to be released from the building during the school day without permission from the principal's office.

E. Information concerning students, teachers, or individual school incidents is held in professional confidence. Student record files are not open for substitute viewing unless permission is granted from the principal.

F. In order to be paid for a full day, substitute teachers must remain on duty for the full day's schedule.

G. It is imperative that all accidents or injuries to employees while on duty be reported to the office immediately.

H. Smoking is not permitted on any Shiloh Village SD #85 property.

I. All substitute teachers are expected to assist, when asked, with any special work or duty assigned as part of the teaching day.

J. Flyers, literature, organizational papers, etc., are not to be distributed unless approved by the principal.

K. No medication (not even aspirin) is to be administered to students, except on written order from the doctor. The office personnel will handle administration of prescribed medication.

L. At the discretion of the principal, long-term substitutes may be required to attend staff development activities and/or meetings.

M. Food brought to school for student consumption should be limited to commercially prepared individually packaged treats. Foods prepared at home should not be brought into the classroom for sharing.

The Board shall take disciplinary action with respect to an employee convicted of a drug offense in the workplace within 30 days after receiving notice of the conviction.

Should District employees be engaged in the performance of work under a federal contract or grant, or under a State contract or grant of $5,000 or more, the Superintendent shall notify the appropriate State or federal agency from which the District receives contract or grant monies of the employee's conviction within 10 days after receiving notice of the conviction.

Procedures for handling students who dress or groom inappropriately will be developed by the Superintendent and included in the Student Handbook.

7:270 - Administering Medicines to Students

Students should not take medication during school hours or during school-related activities unless it is necessary for a student's health and well-being. When a student's licensed health care provider and parent/guardian believe that it is necessary for the student to take a medication during school hours or school-related activities, the parent/guardian must request that the school dispense the medication to the child and otherwise follow the District's procedures on dispensing medication.

No School District employee shall administer to any student, or supervise a student's self-administration of, any prescription or non-prescription medication until a completed and signed "School Medication Authorization Form" is submitted by the student's parent/guardian. No student shall possess or consume any prescription or non-prescription medication on school grounds or at a school-related function other than as provided for in this policy and its implementing procedures.

The Building Principal shall include this policy in the Student Handbook and shall provide a copy to the parents/guardians of students.

1. Records that are kept in staff member's sole possession.
2. Records maintained by law enforcement officers working in the school.
3. 4. Any information, either written or oral, received from law enforcement officials concerning a student less than the age of 17 years who has been arrested or taken into custody.

State and federal law grants students and parents/guardians certain rights, including the right to inspect, copy, and challenge school records. The information contained in school student records shall be kept current, accurate, clear, and relevant. Upon a student's 18th birthday, the District shall obtain written permission from the student to collect student biometric information. Failure to provide written consent to collect biometric information shall not be the basis for refusal of any services otherwise available to a student.

All collected biometric information shall be stored and transmitted in a manner that protects it from disclosure. Sale, lease, or other disclosure of biometric information to another person or entity is strictly prohibited.

The District will discontinue use of a student's biometric information and destroy all collected biometric information within 30 days after: (1) the student graduates or withdraws from the School District, or (2) the District receives a written request to discontinue use of biometric information from the person having legal custody of the student or the student (if over the age of 18).
